

MAID IN RESTAURANT KIDNAP NIGHT WOMAN SAYS

BARTENDER IN FASHIONABLE INN IS SLAIN

Killing on North Shore of Chicago Baffles the Authorities

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(AP)—A slaying mystery as baffling as a modern detective thriller stirred the serenity of Chicago's exclusive Saddle Creek Club today.

The bullet torn body of Louis K. Straub, 46, was found sprawled in the basement of the club yesterday morning where he was employed as night bartender, and police believe that vengeance or passion prompted his assailant to send seven heavy caliber slugs crashing into his head and body.

The attack occurred between 1:10 A. M., when a group of young society people departed from the club where the Prince of Wales attended a ball in his honor 11 years ago, and 3:40 A. M., when Straub's widow, held for the inquest, notified police.

Because the club's membership is closely restricted to the city's most eligible, police believe Straub must have known his slayer to admit him, or was met as he left for the night.

Killer Not Seen
Situating well back from a busy intersection on the city's northside lake front, just south of the Edgewater beach hotel and screened from curious eyes by tall trees, thick shrubbery and a high wire fence, little hope was held that the killer was seen at the deserted clubhouse.

Discarding a robbery theory because of the excessive number of shots fired, police held Straub's widow for the inquest today, asserting they had found numerous discrepancies in her account of incidents preceding and at the time of the finding of the body.

The widow, Mrs. Helen Straub, 34, a former showgirl, Assistant State's Attorney Morris G. Myers said, changed the time of her arrival at the club by an hour and a half, differing with the version of Gus Schwartz, 52, a night watchman, who with Mrs. Straub discovered the body.

CONGRESS' RIGHT TO PUNISH FOR CONTEMPT VALID

Supreme Court Upholds Senate in Case of Wm. McCracken

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Marking another significant milestone in the development of jurisprudence, the supreme court held today that congress—as well as the courts—had power to punish for contempt.

The decision affirmed a ten-day jail sentence imposed by the senate on William P. MacCracken, Jr., former Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Aeronautics, for failure to produce data requested by its armament investigating committee.

MacCracken was found guilty after testimony that he had permitted clients to withdraw from his office and to destroy others.

The same sentence was imposed on L. H. Britton, former vice president of Northwest Airways, Inc., but he served it without appealing to the courts.

In 1929, Harry F. Sinclair, wealthy oil operator, was sentenced to 90 days in jail and fined $500 for refusing to answer questions during the senate's famous Teapot Dome oil investigation. The District of Columbia Supreme Court—and not the senate—imposed the sentence, however.

Morris, Ill., Policeman Killed by Three Robbers Who Kidnaped Young Lady Employee of Store They Looted

Morris, Ill., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Aided with a description furnished by the girl three men kidnaped, authorities today sought the trio who killed a policeman last evening and temporarily abducted Miss Myrtle Ward, 23, after robbing a store.

Night Patrolman Clarence Roseland, about 40, was found shot in the head, slumped over the wheel of a police car parked in front of the store the gang had just robbed. Police believed the men shot Roseland when they emerged from the store.

Herman Gabel, owner of the establishment, and Miss Ward were driving away from the store when the robber car blocked their path. They were forced to return to the store, and while two of the band entered with Gabel, Miss Ward was

"BATH HOUSE" OK

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(AP)—After 39 years, the Municipal Voters' League has snapped its stamp of approval on Alderman John Coughlin. Like this: "Finishing forty-third year in council. Either age, experience, conscience, or conditions beyond his control have resulted in a fair record during this year."

Said Coughlin: "I have been called a grey wolf. I have been called even worse. But never have I suffered such an attack as this. Until this staggering report came out, the worst thing the league ever said about me was that I was born in Waukegan, Ill. I was born in Chicago."

ALASKAN GOLD RUSH EXPECTED TO BE LARGEST

Last Year's Gold Production was $16,105,000 Papers Report

By CLEVELAND WILLIAMS Associated Press Staff Writer

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 4.—(AP)—All Alaska is expecting one of the greatest gold rushes in the history of the territory to start this spring.

Gold production last year was estimated by the federal government at $16,105,000, and veteran prospectors said here that great impetus has been given to prospecting and all forms of mining.

"It's the president and the airplanes," said Eugene C. Allen, who published the Klondike Nugget 50 cents a copy at Dawson during that great gold rush. "Mr. Roosevelt's gold price of $35 an ounce furnishes the incentive to prospectors, and extensive development of aviation in Alaska provides the means of going in a few hours to places that formerly could not be reached in months."

"I hear of seven new dredges being built for Alaska," said Earle W. Knight, editor of the Alaska Weekly, "and each of them is good for more than $200,000 a year in gold." "I believe Alaska is on the verge of the greatest gold year in the last 30," said Frank Cotter, veteran sourdough. "With the spring, a vast army of prospectors will swarm into the hills, and new equipment will increase the output considerably over last year, I believe."

The Cordova Times reported the Havensha plant going full blast. The Nome Nugget cited discovery of a stringer of free gold at Ugashik, on Kodiak Island and the Fairbanks News-Miner reported extensive dredging of low-grade ore, which did not become profitable until the $35 price.

Business Agent of Chicago Union Shot To Death on Street

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Thomas E. Maloy, business agent for the Motion Picture Operators' Union, was shot and killed today on Chicago's south side outer drive.

Maloy, accompanied by a physician, was driving north on the outer drive. At 34th street, an automobile filled with gunmen pulled up along side and opened fire with a machine gun. The top of Maloy's head was blown off.

NO CLUES TO MURDER

Aurora, Ill.—(AP)—State's Attorney G. D. Carbery of Kane county announced that few clues to the slaying of Clarence E. Barnes, prosperous farmer, had been gained from interviews with Barnes widow and two sons. The man's body with at least two bullets in it was found by Mrs. Barnes in a garage Friday night when she returned from a church function.

Patrolman Ed Garrity, Roselands partner, emerged from the Kay hotel to find Roseland dead in the car. He had heard no shooting, he said. Possibly because a radio was playing loudly. Authorities sought witnesses to the shooting.

The amount of loot obtained by the band was undetermined. Roseland, who was dead when he arrived at a hospital, is survived by his widow and four children.

forced to ride around with the third member of the gang. When the looting was completed the car driver pulled up his companions, and with Miss Ward still in the car, drove 20 miles to Joliet where the girl was released. Descriptions of the trio were furnished Joliet police by Miss Ward who said one of the men was called "Louie."

BILL AIMED AT JIM FARLEY IS BEFORE SENATE

Sen. Norris Introduces Anti-Politics Act for Consideration

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—An "anti-politics" bill, under which James A. Farley would have to resign either as Postmaster General or Democratic national chairman, was introduced in the senate today by Senator Norris (R. Neb.).

The bill, the Nebraska said, "takes the post office department, from top to bottom, out of the control and domination of partisan politics."

The president, with the approval of the senate, would select the Postmaster General for a ten-year term. Instead of the present system whereby congressmen have an important voice in the appointment of postmasters, all employees would be selected by the Postmaster General for "merit and efficiency" only. Norris said. Promotions would be on the same basis.

"Congressmen ought to be tickled to death to be rid of the job," Norris said.

Explaining the anti-politics section, the Nebraska said: "The bill provides that no postmaster or other official of the post office department, including the Postmaster General himself, shall be chairman or a member of any political committee and shall not take part in the management of any political campaign. The Postmaster General is directed to remove any official guilty of such practice and the president is directed to remove the Postmaster General if he engages in any such political activity."

The speaker of the new ladder attack again will be Arthur J. Koehler, Federal wood expert. The state indicated he will take the stand in rebuttal testimony. It was Koehler who traced the lumber used in the ladder to Hauptmann and who gave expert testimony linking tool marks on the wood to the Bronx carpenter's tool kit.

Bracket Is Evidence
This time a small pine wall bracket, the prosecution indicated, will be the material for Koehler's testimony. Koehler, it was said, through microscopic examination traced the tool marks on the bracket in the Hauptmann garage to his plane.

The state was prepared to use this information to meet Hauptmann's own admission, the garage at his Bronx home was not built until after his California trip in 1931.

This testimony would support Koehler's contention that the tool marks on the wood in the ladder were made by Hauptmann's plane, and would attack the truth of using the tools.

The prospect of a new court battle over the ladder somewhat overshadowed the return to the witness stand of Peter Sommer, the defense "surprise" witness who inferentially linked the kidnapping to Violet Sharpe, the Morrow maid, and Isador Fisch, Hauptmann's business partner. Both Miss Sharpe and Fisch are dead.

Week-End Investigation
A continuance of withering cross examination by Attorney General David T. Wilentz faced Sommer. Wilentz had at hand the results of an investigation of the defense witness' background made during the week-end.

"I will prove conclusively that the man now dangling on the witness stand was somewhere else at the time," Wilentz announced. "It is my belief that testimony will be produced which will indicate his assertions are not worth the time to recite them."

"I think his entrance into the case is a very ugly incident," said Associate prosecution counsel. "Investigators had dug up records indicating Sommer was a professional witness and that he had received medical attention for mental disorders."

The attitude of Jersey's counsel was further reflected in the announcement that the state would move to clear the name of Violet Sharpe, a maid in the Mrs. Dwight Morrow home at Englewood, who committed suicide during the kidnap investigation.

Will Clear Dead Maid
"We will completely and satisfactorily explain about Violet Sharpe," Wilentz declared.

Miss Sharpe refused to tell investigators where whereabouts the night of the kidnapping. It was later learned, however, that she had gone to a speakeasy that night in disobedience of the express wish of her employer, Ernest Miller of (Continued on Page 2)

OVERPAID TAXES REFUNDED BY U. S. IN ILLINOIS

Several Corporations in State Received Money In Year

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The federal government today announced it had refunded millions of dollars to Illinois corporations and individuals during the last fiscal year because of overpayments on their income, estate sales and processing taxes.

The largest single refund went to the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad Company, $829,010; with second largest, $500,000 going to the Elgin National Watch Company of Elgin.

The newly elected representative Ralph E. Church, Republican of Evanston, was refunded $967,000. Included in the long list were others, the majority of whom got back less than $1,000.

There were exceptions, however. The estate of Matthew T. Chapman of Aurora was refunded $50,145; the W. T. Rewleigh Company of Freeport, $46,762; the estate of Willard L. Veile of Moline, $37,626; and the Illinois Terminal Railroad Company of Alton, $33,576.

The list of refunds within the state above $500 included:

Selection, Testing, Treatment of Corn Theme Farm School

Seed corn selection, testing, and treatment will be the topic of study at the Farmers' Evening School tonight at Dixon High School.

The ten week course in which ten points on corn production will be outlined, began two weeks ago and has been highly successful with increased attendance at each Monday night session. Last Monday farmers from all points in the county gathered for a discussion of the varieties of soy beans to be used in place of small grains. Different varieties were discussed, the system of planting, harvesting, and the yield.

Sixteen were present at last week's course. The meetings are conducted by John N. Weiss, high school instructor in agriculture.

Mrs. Katherine Pearl Kendall Is Called to Eternal Rest in Night

Mrs. Katherine Pearl Boden Kendall passed away at her home, 1299 Walnut Avenue, this morning at 10 o'clock after a long illness. She was born in France, July 23, 1885, and had resided in Dixon for a number of years. Three daughters survive to mourn her passing, Mrs. Hazel M. Young, Mrs. Ernest Decker and Mrs. Marvin Bivins, all of this city. Funeral services will be conducted from the Preston chapel Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. W. Walter, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church officiating and with interment in Oakwood.

Two Men Hurt When Allegedly Stolen Car Is Wrecked Near Addison

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Gunnard Nelson, 25, and Sam Fleming, 23, both of Rockford, were in serious condition today at Elmhurst hospital after injuries received when their car crashed into a telephone pole last night in the village of Addison.

Sheriff Arthur Bennett of DuPage county, who investigated the crash, said the car had been stolen in Rockford earlier in the day.

-- LINDY 33 TODAY --

Flemington, N. J., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh observed his thirty-third birthday today by returning to his accustomed seat in the Hunterdon county courtroom where Bruno Hauptmann is on trial for the kidnap-killing of the Colonel's first born son.

Little more than three years ago the Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh, seeking the privacy they so much desired, came to this same Sourland hills region where the spotlight of world interest has focused for the last five weeks.

The tall flyer, dressed in the customary light business suit without a vest, has been an unflinching spectator since the trial began.

STORY OF FISCH OFFERING "HOT" MONEY REJECTED

Hauptmann's Attorneys Turn Down Tale Told by N. Y. Painter

Flemington, N. J., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Arthur J. Trost, a New York painter, asserted today Isador Fisch had offered to sell him "hot money" three months after the Lindbergh kidnapping.

Chief of defense counsel Edward J. Reilly, Trost said, rejected his offer of testimony yesterday and accused the would-be witness of being a "stool pigeon for the state of New Jersey."

Trost said that Reilly did not give him time to complete an account of details through which he professes to know of the offer of "hot money."

Fisch said since the summer of 1931, "I work steadily as a painter." Trost said "and I was even going to meet my own expenses to Flemington in order to see that Hauptmann got justice."

"In 1931 I knew Fisch as a man who was forever borrowing small sums from his acquaintances. He borrowed some money from me and never paid it back," he said.

50 Cents on Dollar
"In June, 1932, a person I had met and who gave his name as 'Fritz' asked me if I wanted to buy some good money for fifty cents on the dollar. I wondered what it was about and went with him to a pool hall on East 86th street."

"There he pointed out Fisch. I told him and Fisch that I did not want to have anything to do with them, that I had known Fisch for some time and did not think much of his character."

"Fisch said 'okay,' and I left," Trost concluded.

He said the man called "Fritz" had gone to Europe in 1932, 1933 and 1934.

"He traveled in style. Before this he didn't have much money. He was a painter and frequently out of work."

Mrs. Wm. McLaughlin Former Dixonite, Died in Utah Sunday

Mrs. Harriet Palmer McLaughlin, wife of Wm. McLaughlin and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Palmer of Dixon, passed away at St. Joseph's hospital, Salt Lake City, Utah, Sunday following an operation which relieved a punctured gall bladder which had fatally poisoned her. The body will be buried in Dixon, her former home, Thursday morning and funeral services will be held at 9 o'clock the same day at the home of her brother, John Palmer, 916 Seventh St., and at 9:30 at St. Patrick's Catholic church, Rev. T. L. Walsh officiating and with burial in Oakwood.

Mrs. McLaughlin's death will bring sorrow to a host of friends in Dixon, where she lived until six or eight years ago when Mr. McLaughlin took her west for her health. Beside her parents and husband she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. George Hirth of Rock Falls and Mrs. C. A. Ryers of Chicago, and two brothers, Charles H. of Armour, S. D. and John of Dixon.

The new directors for the Dixon Chamber of Commerce were chosen today as a result of the poll conducted the past week to select the 1935 board.

Those selected were Robert Warner, George B. Shaw, G. B. Fluher, George Netiz, Joseph Eichler and John E. Meyer.

The new directors will serve for a two year term. They will meet with the holdover members at the Nachusa Tavern, 12 o'clock noon, Wednesday to elect officers. Secretary Miss Frances Patrick announced.

The celebrated German inventor whose aircraft and engines are in use all over the world, retired from active participation in his business about two years ago.

ELECTRIC RATES SHOW VARIANCE OF 500 PERCENT

Results of Survey of 191 Larger Cities Reported Today

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—New material for its study of the power question was in the hands of the administration today in the form of a survey by the power commission showing cost of electric current to householders varied as high as nearly 500 per cent in some communities.

Covering rate charges in 191 cities with 50,000 or more population, the report cited a range of from $2.73 for 100 kilowatt hours in Madison, Wis., to $7.31 for the same amount of electricity for domestic use in Mt. Vernon and New Rochelle, N. Y.

For 15 kilowatt hours, prices ranged from 60 cents in Cleveland and Columbus, Ohio, to $1.71 in Miami, Fla.

The commission found the average householder with the average number of appliances uses from 15 to 40 kilowatt hours of electricity monthly.

Although Frank R. McNinch, commission chairman, has said that power rates in most of the larger cities are excessive, the commission emphasized that its survey was a fact-finding study and not an investigation of the reasonableness of charges.

Two Police Guards at Executive Mansion in Springfield Suspended So They Can Catch Up Their Sleep

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 4.—(AP)—This is the tale of two highway policemen, assigned to guard duty at the executive mansion, who have been suspended for five days so that they might catch up on their sleep.

Gov. Horner went to Chicago one day last week. These two policemen, on duty from midnight until 8 A. M., thought he wouldn't be back until the next day. So, instead of keeping guard throughout the night they went to sleep in the mansion garage.

The governor, however, took a midnight train out of Chicago. He arrived here shortly after 4 o'clock,

Way to Chicago Now

Toronto, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Olivia Dionne, parents of the famous northern Ontario quintuplets, were in Toronto today on their first long trip since they went on their honeymoon to Ottawa in September, 1925, but they did not appear excited.
The Dionnes refused to discuss their plans with reporters who greeted them at the station as they arrived from North Bay today. Hurrying through the station, they rode away in a taxi to a hotel.
There it was learned, however, that they will be the guests of Hax Helperin in Chicago.
"We are going to show them the sights," said Helperin, who stated that as yet the Dionnes had signed no vaudeville contract. He said the couple would be in Chicago 10 days. They will leave Toronto tonight.
Receipts for 1934 at the Dixon post office fell off slightly as compared with receipts for 1933, a survey by Postmaster John Moyr revealed today.
Receipts for 1934 were $47,025.23 as compared with the 1933 total of $54,941.95. Compared with the best figure attained at the Dixon post office in the past ten years, the 1934 record showed a decrease of $15,916.72. The highest point reached in the last ten years was in 1930 when receipts totalling $63,011.13 were recorded. A steady decrease has been reported each year since 1930.
Holiday Revenue Off
Despite the apparent volume of mail before Christmas in 1934, the statistics indicate a decrease of $847 in Christmas business for seven days prior to the holiday, as compared with the same length of time in 1933. The 1933 seven day record prior to Christmas Day was $3,105.80. Last year's postal receipts for the same period were $3,097.43. Following are the receipts for the past ten years:
1925 $55,681.45
1926 60,358.16
1927 59,120.37
1928 62,245.66
1929 62,311.92
1930 63,011.13
1931 59,940.07
1932 55,107.60

Witness For—

paid to Hauptmann in a Bronx graveyard the futile $50,000 Lindbergh ransom.
Sebastian Benjamin Lupica, a Princeton preparatory student in 1932, testified he saw a man in a dark blue or black sedan with Mercer county, New Jersey, license plates near the Lindbergh estate on March 1, 1932. He said the car had a ladder in it and that it was the same ladder which police exhibited later as the kidnapping ladder.
Resembled Hauptmann
He could not, he said, identify the man as Hauptmann. On cross-examination he testified the man had a resemblance to Hauptmann.
Cross-examination of Kloppenburg, who also testified that Isador Fisch brought a package to the Hauptmann home during a farewell party, was directed toward showing that his memory was hazy. Kloppenburg was made to admit that he had told police after Hauptmann's arrest he could not remember when he saw him in either March or April of 1932.
The defense contends the package which Kloppenburg saw under the arm of Isador Fisch, who died in Germany, was a shoe box containing the block of Lindbergh ransom money which was found in Hauptmann's garage.
"Professional Witness"
Sommer left the stand early in the day after the state accused him of being a professional witness and vigorously attacked his story that he had seen two men and a woman with a blond baby on the night of the kidnapping. Sommer had identified a picture of Fisch as one of the men he saw, and said a picture of the suicided maid Violet Sharpe closely resembled the woman.

Kloppenburg had to acknowledge on cross-examination that he could not say whether or not Fisch had taken away with him the package he brought to the farewell party. His testimony ended at the noon recess.
Lupica had been subpoenaed, but not called, by the state. He was chided under newspaper articles written under his name, in which he was supposed to have said Hauptmann was the man he saw. He said he was paid for the articles but never wrote them.
Admitted Statements
"You told everybody in the world that the man you saw on March 1 in an automobile with a ladder in it looked like Hauptmann, isn't that right?" a prosecutor asked Lupica on cross-examination.
"He has a resemblance, yes," Lupica said.
"And you have always said that he resembled Hauptmann, haven't you?"
"Yes, it is the truth."
"And you say so today, don't you?"
"Yes."
"Have you at any time said to anybody that you can definitely recognize the defendant Hauptmann as the man you saw in that car?" defense counsel asked Lupica.
"No," he testified.
"Can you identify Bruno Hauptmann as the man you saw in the car that night?"
"I cannot," he said.

Rockford Widow Pleads
May Hanson, sentenced to a prison term of 14 years for the torch murder of her husband, Earl Hanson, at her home in Rockford on August 13, 1933, is asking a reversal on the claim that she was not given a fair trial.
Addison Throop, East St. Louis, seeks to have set aside a $2,000 fine and a prison sentence of one to five years for soliciting money from individuals and corporations in return for alleged reductions of assessed valuations of property while he was serving as a member of the Board of Reviews in St. Clair county.
The Brevoort Hotel Company, Chicago, maintaining that the sales tax is not applicable to dining rooms operated by hotels is seeking to have its contention upheld by the court.

Slayers Ask New Trial
Thomas J. Lehne and Gertrude Puhse, Granite City, under sentence of death for murdering the husband, Charles Puhse, as he slept in bed on the night of January 25, 1934, have asked a new trial, claiming an unfair hearing resulted in the death penalty.
Claiming that the grand jury which indicted them was illegally drawn, John Bain, John H. Bain, Robert A. Bain and W. Merle Fisher, operators of the Bain banks in Chicago, have asked the court for a reversal of the judgment of conspiracy to defraud against them. John Bain received a sentence of one to five years and the other three were assessed fines of $1,000 each.

Closter, N. J., her companion that night, was expected to be called by the state as a witness to establish where whereabouts.
Wilentz said the state's present plans called for no more than an hour and a half of rebuttal testimony after defense evidence is completed.
Chief defense counsel Edward J. Reilly meanwhile reiterated his complaint over police handling of his witnesses and charged an attempt had been made to "frame" him Sunday at his Brooklyn home.
"The state police of New Jersey," Reilly said, "have interfered enough with defense witnesses. Some of my witnesses have been told to go home, that they would not be needed, and when I wanted them they were gone."
Wilentz "Square Shooter"
He did not implicate Wilentz in his charge, calling him a "square shooter."
To reports that witnesses would be called to clear Violet Sharpe, Reilly said:
"The Alphonse and Gaston boys of this trial are over."
The attempt to "frame" him, Reilly said, was made when "a Negro doled up in a black bear-skin coat" called at his home and offered to fix up a story about Hauptmann "that would be believed even though it was a fake."
Reilly said the man suggested a walk through the park while he told the story—a suggestion which Reilly asserted he suspected was based on the likelihood some one would take a picture of them together for "framing" purposes.
"I told him to get out," Reilly said.

SUPREME COURT

Illinois Justices Confronted with Nearly 100 Cases Tuesday
Springfield, Ill., Feb. 4.—(AP)—The February term of the Supreme Court convenes tomorrow with 99 cases, many of which are of major importance, on the advisement docket.

Arrangements have been made for 104 candidates to be admitted to the bar in an open court ceremony on February 14.

Included in the cases on the advisement docket are the following: Myrtle Tanner Blackledge, against whom Susanne Nottingham, Chicago, was awarded $7,500 damages in an allegation of affections suit in 1933 and who spent several months in jail when she failed to settle the claim, is seeking to have the judgment reversed and her freedom allowed.

GETTING ALONG

(By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton.)

"M Y WIFE and I" write a gay and wise reader, "have an arrangement by which we get along famously. It has worked for forty years, and that is a while of a long time for a woman to live with any man."
"Somebody has said," he continues, "that a woman must have the diplomacy of a minister plenipotentiary, the courage of a lion, and the surety of something else or other to accomplish such a feat. And the man must have—oh, well, never mind; he is lucky to have any wife at all."
"Anyway, our agreement works well enough, and it is almost too simple to be found out. I always decide the big questions and she always decides the little questions, and she decides which are the big questions and which are the little ones—that is plain as can be."
"Naturally," he adds, "we do not understand the marriage muddle of today, which seems to get more muddled every day. It looks as if people lack sense, to say nothing of a sense of humor, and that is bad. They swap wives as we used to swap knives when I was a boy."
Yes, things are different today—our life is hectic, and we have odd ideas about living our lives, regardless. My reader was married forty years ago, before these new fangled notions were born. In those days everyone took marriage vows seriously, and for keeps.
In fact we had a certain sentiment about such things, and our religion bound us with ties of reverence as well as honor. But today religion has worn thin, and people talk as lightly of marriage ties as they do of less important matters. It is an experiment, as they put it. Also, we seem to have developed porcine personalities, so sensitive and touchy that we scratch each other, even in the smallest things. If one takes note of the reasons given for divorce, he will be astonished at their triviality—mere pin pricks.
But maybe the economic ordeal of today will teach us some sense; the sharp edges of life will take off some of our angles. It will do good if it brings us back to simplicity, and a sense of values.

Mix flour, baking powder and salt cut in fat with knife. Add water and when stiff dough forms, pat out and fit over apricots. Bake 35 minutes in a slow oven. Serve warm.

Willet-Walter Wedding at Brooklyn Parsonage

Miss Hazel Willet became the bride of Gilbert Walter of Paw Paw, in a quiet wedding ceremony performed Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock at the Brooklyn Lutheran parsonage. Rev. L. J. Grosshans officiated at the single ring ceremony.
The couple was attended by Miss Irma Walter, a cousin of the groom and Homer Betz of Paw Paw, a friend of the groom.
The bride was lovely in a floor length dress of egg shell taffeta, satin trim with accessories to match and carried a bride's bouquet of roses. Her bridesmaid wore a dress of apricot and carried an arm bouquet of yellow daffodils.
The bride is a daughter of Arthur Willet of Rochelle. For some years she has been making her home with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parks. Mr. Walter is a son of Paul Walter of Paw Paw. He is a fine young man and at present time is employed at the Roessler meat market in Paw Paw.
A wedding dinner was served the bridal party at the Waldorf Cafe in Mendota.
The happy couple will make their home with his father for the time being. Their many friends wish them much happiness in married life.
The bride's father attended the wedding.

Meeting So. Dixon Unit Home Bureau

The South Dixon Unit of the Home Bureau met at the home of Mrs. Clark Young Wednesday. A most enjoyable picnic dinner was served at noon, followed by a short business meeting. An interesting account of her visit at Farm and Home Week at Urbana was given by Mrs. Lillian Shippert.
The lesson on easy entertaining was given by Mrs. Florence Syverud.
There was a short recreation period followed by adjournment. Ten members and thirteen guests were present. All spent a very enjoyable day. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. William Hoyle, on Feb. 12.

ENTERTAINED AT SUNDAY EVENING SUPPER

Judge and Mrs. Harry Edwards entertained with a Sunday evening supper.

Dr. Rice Ninety Years Old Sunday

Dr. J. W. Rice, resident of Dixon for many years, was ninety years old Sunday. Dr. Rice does not like surprises as a rule and he does not care for birthday parties, nor cakes, so he has always said. So last year, his daughters acceded to his wishes and did not bake a cake as they usually did, nor did they all gather at his home in his honor. Late that evening Dr. Rice informed one of his daughters that it was the first birthday he "could remember when he did not have a cake." Such is the perversity of human nature. So yesterday, all the children and their families gathered at the Dr. Rice home as a happy surprise for him and he had a very suitable cake, with lovely decorations occupying the place of honor on the table, which was also decorated with cut flowers and tapers. Dr. Rice received a number of handsome gifts with the best wishes of all present for future happy birthdays.
Mr. and Mrs. Claude Murphy of Park Ridge were in attendance with their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy, and W. B. Rice and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rice and family of Rockford were present. The day was a most enjoyable one for everyone.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

DAILY BURDEN IS EASED BY THESE SIMPLE HINTS

In order to make the housewife's job an easier one there are many little things to tuck away in the mind—and bring forth as the occasion arises.
For example, if you will put a knife in warm water, then wipe it carefully before you proceed to cut a frosted cake you will not have crumbling difficulties. Or, remember that if you put a little flour, to which a few drops of lemon juice have been added, through your chopper, such fruits as raisins, figs, dates which are to be chopped will not stick.
If you want to ripen bananas quickly just leave them in a brown bag and keep in a warm place. They'll ripen over-night this way and will not spoil.
And do you know that a good pair of large scissors is better in shredding lettuce, dicing celery, cutting up raisins and so forth than a knife? In fact a pair of good scissors around the kitchen is as useful an implement as you can have.
There is nothing like plenty of water. One of the reasons spinach is sometimes unpopular with children is because it is often gritty and hard to eat. Let spinach soak for a long, long time before you begin washing it. And garnish it a bit—help it along! Add cream just before you finish cooking it, or add finely chopped hard-boiled yokes to the top, or sliced hard-boiled egg. All these points will add to your housewifely popularity and your comfort!

Let Wind Help With Cleaning

Let the sun and fresh air aid you with the house-cleaning. Select a windy day and hang out the drapes and rugs and with a little brushing the articles will be quickly cleaned and freshened.

Meeting of Sugar Grove P.T.A. Thurs.

The meeting of the P. T. A. of the Sugar Grove School held a well attended and interesting meeting Thursday evening at the school. There was music by the Newcomer boys and Mrs. M. Mosholder of Dixon gave a delightful reading. A dictation was given by the Misses Mina Sanders and Catherine Sheaffer which was much enjoyed. This was followed by talk by Miss Estlin Barton of Dixon on Foreign Schools, which was replete with information and interest. Miss Barton has done considerable traveling, and being a teacher she naturally learns about the schools, and school conditions of the countries she visits.

Works of Art at E. C. Smith School

GOOD NEWS DEPARTMENT

Reynoldwood Farm Dairy wants to show its appreciation of customers buying milk in quantities large enough to justify a discount—so if you can take milk at the rate of three quarts a day—ninety cents a month minimum—they will give you a discount of one cent a quart. In other words—buy 90 QUARTS of rich, pure, raw Jersey milk from Reynoldwood Farm EACH MONTH and you get it at the rate of 11c A QUART instead of 12c.
Reynoldwood creamline (AND WHAT A CREAMLINE!) Jersey milk is not pasteurized. IT DOES NOT NEED to be "pre-cooked" to destroy disease germs, as it is produced under strictly sanitary conditions, from healthy, blood-tested cows, and has a BACTERIA COUNT that is LOWER than most pasteurized milk.
Reynoldwood milk has a delicious flavor and contains all the valuable vitamins that build healthy, disease resistant bodies. Some of these vitamins are weakened or completely destroyed by pasteurization.

EVILS OF WAR KEPT US FROM WORLD COURT

Just in case anyone hadn't realized it, the United States Senate seems to have served new notice on the world at large that there is still a large, vocal, and influential portion of the American public which will have nothing to do with anything resembling a European entanglement.

The lineage of this group is easily traced. It stems directly back to the League of Nations fight in 1920, and although that ancestry is fairly ancient, as political blocs go, it is pretty obvious, now, that its blood is not yet getting thin.

It would be very easy to point out that much of the opposition to this World Court resolution was based on an assumption—to wit, that getting into the court would automatically put us in the league.

There is no point now in repeating old arguments. What we might more profitably do is take this action by the Senate as a new occasion for striking a profit-and-loss balance on the World War.

For that is what it comes down to, in the end. The disillusionment left by the war was the great underlying reason for our refusal to approve the court. The war was hideously costly in many ways, but this disillusionment is perhaps the most costly way of them all.

We went into the war at a high pitch of idealism—perhaps the highest pitch to which any nation ever nerved itself. We were fighting for intangibles—or so we thought.

There was absolutely nothing for us to gain in any material sense. We went into the greatest war in history simply because we were sold on the idea that we could in that way, make the world a cleaner and better place.

It didn't take us long to get our eyes open. The democracy which the war was to have saved seems, instead, to have received its death blow in many parts of the world.

The injustices which the war was to end have been replaced by new injustices.

The peace which it was to bring is simply an armed truce between conflicts.

And the allies with whom we struck hands in 1917 have been calling us harsh names ever since.

In the realization of these things lies the bitterest price we have paid for the war. It has frosted our idealism and confirmed our suspicions.

We may think we have got over it—until something like the World Court resolution comes along, and then we find out that we have not.

MORE WORK, MORE PAY

December figures for American manufacturing, just compiled, indicate the resumption of an upward trend which if continued will provide a good deal of reason for optimism.

A bulletin from the National Industrial Conference Board shows that more men were at work in December than in November, that they were working longer hours, and that their weekly earnings were higher.

Number of men employed in 25 manufacturing industries was up 2.7 percent, total number of hours worked was up by 5.9 per cent, and weekly earnings were up by 3.2 per cent—and, at the same time, the cost of living remained stationary.

All this, to be sure, leaves us with a long way to go. But the trend is in the right direction, and we are entitled to feel encouraged by it.

MAN STILL RESPONSIBLE

A St. Louis man has just learned that the old common law presumption that a man is responsible for the acts of his wife can still be invoked.

A St. Louis relief worker went to call on a family which had been on relief for some time, and an argument developed. Husband and wife began calling her names, and before long the wife got angry enough to sail in and start clouting her on the head.

Presently the husband and the wife were arraigned in court. The judge refused to send the wife to jail, because she had four children to look after; instead, he gave the husband a 60-day term, although the husband had not lifted his hand during the set-to.

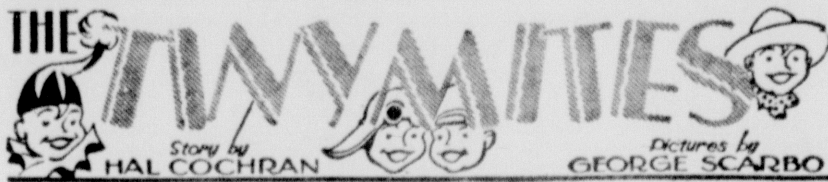

Here is an old-but-new slant on the ancient question of husbandly responsibility which, if generally adopted, might give a good many husbands food for sober reflection.

Fascism, the more it considers and observes the future and the development of humanity, believes neither in the possibility nor the utility of perpetual peace.—Premier Benito Mussolini.

When I think of a streamlined taxicab in New York traffic, I think that you might just as well streamline a clothes wringer or a flatiron.—Charles F. Kettering, automotive engineer.

I gave the fight game the greatest boost it has received since Dempsey's time when I knocked out Levinsky in Chicago.—Max Baer, heavyweight champion.

Most people don't even know how to walk.—Ruth St. Denis, famous dancer.

(READ THE STORY. THEN COLOR THE PICTURE.)

"All right," yelled Scouty, "lead the way. We're feeling pretty strong today, and we can last for several miles, and still have lots of pep."

The farmer said, "Just follow me, and at my farm we soon will be."

"Twas fun to watch the Tinies march, and keep in perfect step. Wee Goldy and fair Doty had a lot of fun. It made them glad to walk with the old farmer, while the others trailed behind."

Cried Goldy, "Hey, you lads are slow. Pep up a bit! Come on. Let's go! We'd like to have you keep within our sight, if you don't mind."

"Aw, you should talk," snapped Duncy. "Say, please tell me how you get that way. We're doing all the work, while you two girls have lots of fun."

"I think we're walking fast, right now, and we'll keep up with you, somehow, as long as you don't get too smart with us, and start to run."

They passed around a group of trees and Coppy yelled, "Look, if you please! The farm is just ahead of us." The farmer cried, "You're right."

"That's where I spend most of my time. Into my hay lot you can climb and gaze around this lovely place. You'll find it quite a sight."

"But, first, let's put the box up high upon my wagon. It's nearby. Then, later, I will hitch my horse and get set for a ride."

"To town I'm going to take this fruit. While I am gone, you lots can scoot around and do things on my farm that neer before you've tried."

Just then fair Goldy laughed. "He, he! My, what a funny sight to see! A goose is chasing Duncy and the lad looks scared to death."

"Just watch! I think there is a chance the goose will grab him by the pants. He's run poor Duncy so far, now, the lad can't catch his breath."

(Scouty entertains the Tinies in the next story.)

DAILY HEALTH

The Quintuplets
The Canadian doctor whose name is associated with that of the quintuplets has received much and highly merited praise.

One of the best tributes accorded was the lament of a writer to the effect that he "was quite anxious to see these quintuplets, but for some strange reason was denied the privilege by the doctor in charge." This "strange reason" was nothing less than the best of medical practice.

In any consideration of these phenomenal quintuplets, the basic credit must be given to the faithful stock. These children came from unusually good stock. One evidence of this toughness of the hereditary fiber is to be seen in a spell of serious illness which the mother suffered during her pregnancy. This illness was serious enough to prove the undoing of any ordinary woman, but she survived it apparently without injury.

Dr. Dafoe, following strictly the precepts of the best medical procedure, contributed much by observing the following precautions which, incidentally, are of as great value for the ordinary single infant as for twins, triplets, or quintuplets:

He did not permit any unnecessary handling of the children.

He kept the children completely isolated from all members of the family and from other people.

The doctor early made use of an incubator. By placing the children therein he kept them at an equable temperature and under proper moisture conditions. In this he utilized a scientific development of comparatively recent origin. He made use of respiratory stimulants, consisting of a combination of carbon dioxide and oxygen, to combat attacks of asphyxia.

In the light of this, we see that not only do we have in the Canadian doctor a gentleman of the old school, but also a practitioner who

LEARN TO PLAY THE PIANO---Free

STARTING SATURDAY, FEB. 9

—AND—

CONTINUING EACH WEEK FOR 24 WEEKS IN

THE DIXON TELEGRAPH

You will begin the first lesson, not knowing one note from the other.

You will place the instructions, as they appear in The Telegraph, over the keyboard of the piano. You'll learn the fundamentals in an interesting manner. After the first lesson you will be able to play the chords of D major.

The course is so simple that any child can, by its aid, be started on the way to proficiency on the piano or organ. The fundamental principles in music must first be mastered... that is essential. The Music Simplifier Course in Piano Playing teaches the fundamental principles in the easiest and simplest manner possible. It makes the learning a pleasure study by making it fascinating. You know at all times what you are doing, why you are doing it, and what progress you are making.

The author of the plan believes that any person will reach the point where he can play simple popular music, and if he wants to get beyond that, and in all probability he will, music teachers offer the best possible training.

Be sure to get these lessons from the start. Each lesson will be printed one time only. Remember, there are 24 of them.

Lesson 1 Begins Saturday, Feb. 9.

Read What These World-Famous Pianists Say About W. Scott Grove's 24-Lesson Course in Piano Playing—

To Mr. W. Scott Grove.
Dear Sir: I consider your Music Simplifier a very useful improvement in piano teaching.

Truly Yours,
J. Hofman.

You have my deep admiration when, in this age of commercialization, you try to teach and develop the musical side of young people. Your lessons are ideal for both young and old. Allow me to compliment you on them.

Ignace Jan Paderewski.

In looking over your Music Simplifier Course in Piano Playing, I find it a very good way of overcoming some of the elementary difficulties of piano study. I wish you much success. With best regards, I am

Sincerely yours,
Rudolph Ganz.

DIXON QUINTS OPEN MONTH'S HOOP ACTION

Dixon High Takes on Rochelle Basketballmen

Dixon's basketball teams will be at home and out of town during the week in competition with natural rivals.

As usual, in independent team circles, the Commercial league dominates the spotlight cast on home games. These games played every Tuesday night at the high school gymnasium pair the Dixon State Hospital quint against the Knacks Leaders at 7:15 P. M. and the Beiers Loafers against the I. N. U. club at 8:15 P. M. As both the Knacks and Beiers will be fighting to maintain a share of the league lead, these games are bound to be interesting, and upsets are always the sinister possibility for the overconfident.

Play Forrester

The Beiers will play their postponed game with Forrester at that village, Wednesday night. This match was originally booked for last Monday but failed to materialize when Forrester called it off. Meanwhile the Beiers took a fall out of West Brooklyn while awaiting their turn to reenter Commercial league competition again.

Thursday night, the Dixon State Hospital Yellowjackets may play their postponed game with Ashton. This is a tentative affair however. The Staters were to have met Ashton in a non-league game last Thursday but at the last minute St. Anthony of Rockford was billed. The Hospital team drubbed the Rockford quint 27 to 14.

Title Hopes Dashed

Dixon high school's Purple and White quints laid Rochelle, Friday night with little at stake but victory. The Sharpshooters' N. C. I conference basketball title hopes were shattered last Friday by DeKalb, first place contender with Sterling Township high.

No reports are forthcoming concerning the week's activities of the Dixon Dreadnaughts, St. Anne's, or the newly organized Brown Shoe Co. teams.

The weekly schedule:

| Tuesday | Wednesday | Thursday | Friday |
|---------------------------------|--------------------|---|------------------------------------|
| Knacks vs Dixon State Hospital. | Beiers vs I. N. U. | Ashton at Dixon State Hospital, (tentative) | Dixon high at Rochelle (two games) |

BOBSLED KINGS SET NEW RECORD AT LAKE PLACID

Lake Placid, N. Y., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Lake Placid's famous bobsledding Stevens brothers are monarchs of American bobsledding.

In record-smashing performances that exceeded even their own hopes, the husky athletes who got their early training as children in this Adirondack resort made a clean sweep of the National A. A. U., two-man and four-man championships on icy Mount Van Hoevenberg this week end.

J. Hubert and F. Paul Stevens roared down the treacherous mile and a half run in four breath-taking heats to snare the two-man title in the total time of seven minutes and 50.37 seconds, 6.74 seconds better than the national record.

They clipped one minute and 70 seconds off the single heat course record they set in the 1932 Olympics.

Twenty-four hours later Curtis Stevens piloted his four-man bobsled to a third consecutive national title in a performance that knocked 9.11 seconds off the four heat course record and 1.26 seconds off the single heat course mark.

His total time was seven minutes and 34.0 seconds and his best heat one minute and 44.90 seconds.

The national situation well in hand, the Stevens' turned their attention to the tryouts this week-end to determine America's representatives in the 1936 Olympics in Germany. They conceded they have little hope of bettering further the marks they set up Saturday and Sunday, particularly in the four-man competition.

Four Ex-Champions Battle; Stale Card Boxing This Week

New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Two former champions who used to "cash in" on tight titles by fighting frequent overwrought bouts and have continued the habit since losing their crowns furnish the high spots of an anaemic national boxing program this week. They are Lou Brouillard of Worcester, Mass., former middleweight king, and George Jackson of New York, ex-champion of the light heavyweights.

The two are co-starting on the program at Los Angeles tomorrow night in a pair of ten rounders. Brouillard faces Jimmy Rivers of Fresno, Calif., and Rosenbloom, who recently Miller of Des Moines.

Redbirds Lead Patients Loop With Nine Wins

As February opens, the Redbirds continue to lead the Dixon State Hospital Patients basketball league with nine victories and no defeats.

Game # this week pit the Redbirds against the Wildcats, the Eagles versus the Ramblers and the Tigers against the Beiers.

Following are the standings:

| | W. | L. |
|----------|----|----|
| Redbirds | 9 | 0 |
| Wildcats | 7 | 2 |

ILLINI MEET NOTRE DAME ON BASKET COURT

First Meeting of the Two Since 1926 To Be Good

Probable lineups:

Illinois—Froschauer, (c) f; Riegel, c; Guttschow, f; Combes, g; Henry, g.

Notre Dame—O'Kane, f; Ford, f; M. Peters, g; Jordan (c) g; Ireland, g.

Officials—N. E. Kearns and Dick Bray.

Game at 7:30 P. M. WILL will broadcast.

Champaign, Ill., Feb. 4.—Notre Dame's basketball team will invade the Illinois court Tuesday night for the first meeting of the Irish and Illini cagers since 1926.

One of the largest crowds of the season is predicted but the Illini expect to be able to accommodate all comers.

The Illinois squad has just emerged from the semi-annual tussle with semester examinations, which have occupied the athletes ever since their last game, Michigan, Jan. 19. Not until Thursday was it possible for Coach Ruby to conduct any real practice.

The return to form of Roy Gutschow, veteran forward, has enabled Ruby to revise his lineup in an effort to obtain more scoring strength. Gutschow for some time had been bothered by injured thumbs. The Bloomington boy ranked 15th in Big Ten scoring last year and was one of the best defensive forwards in the league.

Guttschow Back

With Gutschow back in the front line, Ruby will use Harry Combes as running guard, a position he played in high school at Peoria. The reserves are depleted temporarily, at least, by the necessity for Dehner and Halberg, centers, and Braun, guard, to adjust scholastic deficiencies, which they may be able to do within the next week or so.

For his chief subs, Ruby will look to Benham and Blout, forwards; Swanson, center and Eyrone, Vopicka, Michelson, Gibbs and Price, guards.

Notre Dame has won eight and lost five games. Among others the Irish have defeated Stanford, Marquette, Butler and Chicago but have fallen before Northwestern, New York, Minnesota, Pittsburgh and Ohio State.

The Notre Dame starters are all monogram men from last season. Marty Peters, who played his prep games for Spaulding Institute at Peoria, is 6 feet 3 inches and George Ireland, Madison, Wisconsin, is half an inch over six. Johnny Ford, Indianapolis, and Capt. Johnny Jordan, Chicago, are 5 feet 11 and Joe O'Kane, Washington, Indiana, 5 feet 10.

Peters won his monogram at end in football and Don Elser, guard, has played fullback for two seasons.

Notre Dame and Illinois have played six basketball games, the Illini leading with four victories. The scores are as follows:

1922—Illinois, 49; Notre Dame, 38.
1923—Illinois, 41; Notre Dame, 38.
1924—Illinois, 29; Notre Dame, 21.
1925—Illinois, 18; Notre Dame, 29.
1926—Illinois, 14; Notre Dame, 26.

Knacks "Wildmen" Greedy For Hospital Scalps; Beiers to Play I. N. U.

Vengeful Utilities Boys Thirsting for Revenge

The Dixon State Hospital quint is hoping the Knacks Leaders are off form Tuesday night.

Last week the Knacks sent cold chills chasing up and down the spines of the Staters when the Blue team routed the I. N. U. 43 to 12, for this week the Hospital men face Knacks at 7:15 P. M. in the first of the regular Tuesday night games. At 8:15 P. M. the Beiers Orangemen will find themselves in a difficult spot. They must stand off an inspired and tough I. N. U. club seeking revenge.

The I. N. U. boys will be in an ugly mood. Their humiliation knew no bounds in the Knacks game as "Smokie" Joe's proteges kept piling up the score with a 22 to 2 lead at half time and a 34 to 6 advantage at the third quarter's end. The Hospital crew had about thought their victory days were over until they heard they must play the league-leading Knacks. The Staters turned in their first triumph of the season in the loop 20 to 19 by downing an overconfident Ashton bunch. This same Ashton team will be idle this week.

Beiers Share Lead

The Knacks and Beiers teams hold a share of the top position each with four victories and two defeats. The I. N. U. has three losses and four wins, and Ashton holds three victories against four defeats. The Dixon State Hospital erased the goose egg on the winning side of the ledger by their first victory and now have one triumph against six defeats.

The standings:

| | W. | L. |
|----------|----|----|
| Knacks | 4 | 2 |
| Beiers | 4 | 2 |
| I. N. U. | 4 | 3 |
| Ashton | 3 | 4 |
| Hospital | 1 | 6 |

SMITH MOVES ON NASSAU TO TEST OTHER GOLFERS

Scot Captures $6500 Oakmont Open At Glendale

Glendale, Calif., Feb. 4.—(AP)—With concrete proof of his medal play ability established MacDonald Smith set out today in an effort to prove he is at home in Nassau golf competition as well.

The sturdy Scot from old Carnoustie won the 72 hole medal competition in the $6,500 Oakmont Open yesterday by three strokes. He had a 275, five better than par after finishing with a 70 under discouraging circumstances.

But it will be a different story today as he matches his skill against the other leaders in quest of the title and $2,500 additional prize money. Under the complicated Nassau system, Smith meets each of the other eight survivors in three-some match play.

The scoring will be on the basis of 2 points on each nine and two on the eighteen hole total for each of the four rounds. This would mean a possible total of 12 for each of today's two rounds, and a total of 48 attainable for a perfect score.

His first round opponents will be Ky Laffoon, Chicago, and Ray Manerum, Los Angeles, who were tied for second at the end of the medal competition with 278 strokes, two under par. With them was an amateur, Jack Gaines, a local high school basketball coach, who staged a phenomenal finish.

Fourth place went to Harry Cooper, Chicago, with a 281, followed by Henry Picard, Hershey, Penn., North-South champion, and Jimmy Hines, New York, who has 283. Bunny Tropey, the dark-horse star, from Kansas City and Horton Smith, Oak Park, Ill., tied for eighth with a 284 count.

DIXON RIFLERS BEAT ROCHELLE 918-887 SCORE

LaCour Shoots 187 To Lead Dixon Gunners

The Dixon Rifle club has added another victory to their list, defeating the Rochelle riflemen Friday evening by a score of 918 to 887, the scores being as follows: Dixon: LaCour, 187; C. Hill, 185; D. Chapman, 184; G. McWethy, 182; F. Villiger, 180. Total, 918. Rochelle: G. Conrad, 188; H. Hamaker, 180; K. Harms, 177; J. Pearson, 173; M. Dailey, 169. Total, 887.

WINTER DEALS MAY BE CLOSED BY BALL CLUBS

Pirates, Yanks Are Still Reported Dickering

New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The last of the winter baseball deals may be made this week when managers and magnates come to town for the joint major league schedule meeting Tuesday.

Drafting of the schedules concerns only the owners, but there is sure to be a sizeable group of pilots around, since many of them were on hand for the baseball writers' dinner last night and are sure to remain over for the fanning sessions that go hand in hand with all baseball gatherings.

No deals are known to be definitely on the fire. However, a half dozen clubs are looking for needed talent and are willing to talk business if they can get the men they want at the right price.

The Yankees have denied they have been approached with a proposition to send Babe Ruth and several of his mates to Chicago for Al Simmons, the hand hitting outfielder; but the Yanks have not denied they would like to find an experienced slugger to step into the Babe's old post in right field. They may make a move in that direction this week.

To Stand Pat

Pie Traynor, manager of the Pirates, has made up his mind to stand pat unless a "profitable deal presents itself," but all agree that he would like to have Al Todd, manager Jimmy Wilson's Philly understudy, behind the bat.

Volleyball Men Mourn Loss of 'Dead Shot' Austin

With over twenty-five enrolled, volleyball sports to new heights of interest in the Dixon high school gymnasium this week.

The tri-weekly games were held on Monday, Thursday and Saturday nights with a large attendance present for every practice and several torrid matches were contested. "Doc" Evans' waistline is purported to be wasting away to a shadow, while such obese gentlemen as J. N. Weiss, Hanson, and Ben Schildberg are shaping into true athletic form.

Promoter D. C. Austin believes that his proteges may be in shape to engage a few of Dixon's sister cities within a month, or at least before the bluebirds and robins return. The manner in which the boys smack the ball and keep it from touching the courts would indicate they will be ready long before that. The ball certainly hasn't suffered from abuse as far as hitting the floor is concerned. Being almost brand new, it is believed to be strong enough for the strongest spikers also.

Volleyballers were moaning Saturday at the unavailability of D. C. Austin who sprained his ankle earlier in the season, and has not been able to play since. Since his companions heard that a dead shot he is with a timekeeper's gun at basketball games, many wonder if he wouldn't be as accurate with the volleyball. Austin is reported to have brought down a pigeon out of thin air at the Dixon-DeKalb game Friday. As there were no pigeons in the gym that anyone knew about, the corpse of the hapless bird that dropped on the roof must have fallen through the roof when flying over the gym, and got in the way of D. C.'s bullet.

start with Ellsworth Dalghren, a coast league recruit, on first and the aging Max Bishop playing beside him.

Irving Burns and Oscar Melillo of the Browns were the men Eddie Collins wanted, but Rogers Hornsby demanded such a high tariff in cash and young players that even the lavish Mr. Yawkey was seen to bat an eye.

Mickey Cochrane still would like another hard hitting outfielder for his Detroit Tigers. Cleveland needs a utility infielder and both Brooklyn and the Boston Braves have spots to fill, but little to offer in return.

The Giants, Cardinals and Cubs are in good shape.

REDS POURED IN $200,000 TO HELP SELVES

Crosley Expects New Rookies To Lift Team Standing

New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Within a year, Powell Crosley, Jr., millionaire owner of the Cincinnati ball club, has poured $200,000 into minor league coffers for players he hopes can lift his hapless Reds out of the mire of the National league.

To show you that he meant business when he said he intends putting Cincinnati back on the baseball map, the Reds have figured in no less than 25 deals with major and minor league outfits since Crosley acquired control on February 4 last year.

The result is 24 rookies, most of them plucked from the country's three Class A minor leagues—the Pacific coast, International and American association—will battle for regular berths when the Reds begin training in Florida late this month.

Greenest Club

This year's club will be the youngest and greenest in the league, but both Crosley and business manager Larry McPhail believe that once it settles down, becomes acclimated and shakes off its stage fright, it will be powerful enough to blast its way into the first division—if not this year, then next.

The $200,000 figures is for players alone and does not include approximately $100,000 more which the Reds have invested in minor league holdings.

Some of the more important red-leg freshmen are Johnny Mize, first baseman from Rochester for whom Crosley paid $50,000; Alex Kampouris, second sacker from Sacramento and Lew Riggs, third sacker and Bill Myers, shortstop, who played on the pennant winning Columbus team of the American association last year.

Goodman, an outfielder, also from Rochester, is counted on to land a regular berth as is Herrmann, a big pitcher who won 27 and lost 13 games for the San Francisco Seals in 1934.

French Wondering

Larry French, the southpaw, is doing plenty of wondering about the trade which sent him from the Pirates to the Cubs.

French hasn't turned in a win in Wrigley field, his new home, since April 27, 1930.

Hack Wilson, who drew $33,000 for leading the major league in home runs with 56 while with the Cubs in 1930 and also won that year's most valuable player award, will receive $30,000 less as an outfielder for the Albany Internationals this season.

There is talk that if Johnny Mize makes the grade at Cincinnati Jim

LIBERTY LEAGUE ATTACKS RELIEF BILL: "UNWISE"

Shouse Calls Action Revolutionary and Not Justified

Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Jouett Shouse, president of the American Liberty League, assailed the administration's $4,880,000,000 work-relief bill today as "the most revolutionary, unjustified and unwise attempt at absolute delegation of legislative authority to the executive ever witnessed in this country."

If it passes congress and goes unchallenged in the courts, he asserted in an address prepared for delivery to the Philadelphia County League of Women Voters, "it is a certain indication of the disintegration of the form of government under which we have lived and in which we have professed to believe."

"The issue," he added "is whether democracy shall continue to hold sway in this republic or whether bureaucracy will take its place."

Bill "Railroaded"

The measure is now before a senate committee after having passed the house.

Attacking the provision of the bill giving the president wide authority to allot work-relief expenditures as he saw fit, Shouse charged that it was "railroaded" through the house "without adequate hearing by committees, without the opportunity for adequate amendment or revision."

The speaker said he did not question the need of direct federal appropriation for relief.

"But the general character of the work and important questions of policy involved should be directed by the congress in the proper discharge of its duties," he said.

AUTO SPEED IS JUST HOBBY TO LORD CAMPBELL

Lady Campbell Says She Has No Time To Fear

Daytona Beach, Fla., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Lady Campbell wants her husband, Sir Malcolm Campbell, to break the automobile speed record by a comfortable margin this month and then rest on his laurels.

"But he won't," she said philosophically today. "He will want to try again and again. No matter how fast he goes he will be considering methods of adding a few more miles an hour."

"Speed is his hobby. I have been asked why I didn't try to make him stop. I don't think one should try to interfere with a person's hobby."

Blonde, blue eyed and gracious, Lady Campbell chatted easily with reporters during the interview here. She said she did not mind going fast in an automobile.

"I once drove in a race myself you know. It was a woman's race at Brooklands. I made 104 miles an hour. Some of the others went faster."

Riding with Campbell, she added, she has traveled as fast as 120 miles an hour.

Doesn't Like Highway Speed

"I don't like to speed on a highway. That isn't considerate of others. But on a track or beach I don't mind it."

Medium size and trim, she wore on her dress an onyx replica of Sir Malcolm's Bluebird in which he set the present mile record of 272.108 miles per hour in 1933.

"How does it feel to watch your husband make a record," she was asked.

"One doesn't have time to feel any sensations," she replied. "I am so intent upon watching the timing machine to see whether he was successful that I don't have a chance to feel concerned."

Lady Campbell was here with Sir Malcolm during his 1928 attempt and also has accompanied him to trials in Africa, Denmark, and various places in the British Isles.

Is it more trying to wait at home than to be on the scene?

"No. When I am home the newspapers telephone me as he starts to run and tell me when he sets a new record. Here there is an anxious wait for the beach to be right. Several days of wondering whether he can run today. At home it is almost over before I know it. It is easier to wait at home."

"But I enjoy coming to Florida. I like it here."

She said she felt confident Campbell would break the record.

TEACHERS WILL HOLD INSTITUTE IN AMBOY HIGH

Excellent Program Planned for Meeting Next Friday, Feb. 8th

The annual institute of the Lee County Teachers association will be held in the Amboy township high school auditorium next Friday, it has been announced.

An excellent program has been arranged.

Teachers of the institute will be Frank A. Jensen, superintendent of schools, Rockford, Ill.; Fred L.
Biester, principal of Glenbard
Township high school, Glenn Ellyn, Ill.; Miss Ethel M. Burris, supervisor in Bloomington public schools, Bloomington, Ill.

Officers of the association are Bernard J. Frazer, president; John E. Greyer, vice-president; Miss Clara Klapprodt, sec.-treasurer.

The list of committees is as follows: Executive committee (elected): William DeWees, Amboy, chairman; Miss Dorothy Dodd, Dixon; D. C. Thompson, Compton.
Resolutions committee (appointed):
Miss Doris Green, Amboy, chairman; Tilmann Knudsen, Lee; Mrs.
Delores Redebach, Dixon. Nominating committee (appointed): H.
C. Barton, Paw Paw, chairman;
Mrs. Olive Tuttle, Amboy; Vincent Slothower, Ashton. Local arrangements committee (appointed): O.
C. Dean, Amboy, chairman; Miss Elizabeth Lewis, Amboy; W. I. De-Wees, Amboy.

The program is to be given in two sessions as follows:
Morning session—9:5, Music;
10:15, "On the Legislative Front," Fred L. Biester; 10:30, business and announcements; 10:50, High School and Administrative Division, "Legislative Problems Which Directly Affect the High Schools of Illinois," (discussion), Fred L. Biester, Grade and Rural School Section, reading (discussion), Miss Ethel M. Burris.
11:50, Dismissal.

Afternoon session—1:30, music.
1:50, "Ruthless Individualism in the Educational System of Illinois," Frank Jensen, 2:40, music. 2:50, business. 3:05, dismissal.

The music will be furnished by Miss Helen Bannan, harpist, and Miss Hazel Hawk, soloist, of Frances-Shimer Junior College of Mt.
Carroll.

The Bollenmakers, strong favorites to win the title for the second consecutive year, finally got back into the lead Saturday night by defeating Chicago 48 to 35 while Iowa, pace-setter since the start of the season, fell before a rousing Minnesota first-half attack, 36 to 35. Purdue held the top position with four victories in five games,
with Indiana, idle last week, second
with three victories and one defeat.

Race to Speed Up
With semester exams out of the way, the race picks up momentum
this week. In addition to the Buckeyes' invasion of Purdue tonight,
Chicago plays its return match
with Minnesota at Minneapolis.
Indiana will sharpen its game
against Vanderbilt at Nashville,
Tenn., before resuming its conference schedule Saturday against Minnesota at Bloomington.

Iowa goes to Ohio State Saturday
and Illinois tackles Chicago the same night. The bill also offers five other big non-conference battles
Illinois entertains Notre Dame on Tuesday night, and on Saturday
Purdue plays Fordham at New York, Notre Dame meets Northwestern at Evanston, Michigan goes
to Michigan State and Wisconsin
entertains De Pauw.

Iowa's Offense Best
Although Iowa tumbled out of the lead by losing to Minnesota, it has the best offensive average. In six games the Hawkeyes have averaged 36.3 points per game. Wisconsin has held six opponents to 23
points a game for the leading defensive mark.

Bonithon Lacked Kick
It was Bonithon, national collegiate mile champion and world's record holder at 1500 meters, who had been expected to furnish all
the competition for Cunningham.
He entered the race with three victories over his Kansas rival in five meetings and many experts forecast another victory for him, despite the fact he was making his first start of the campaign. But Princeton Bill laid his usual finishing
"kick" and wound up in third place
25 yards behind Venzke.

Hornbostel won the 1,000 yard
special with a fast finish in 2:13,
a second back of the indoor record,
and then shattered Alan Helfrich's
world record of 1:11.6, set in 1925,
in winning the Millrose 600 with an electrifying sprint at the finish.
The Hoosier ace was caught in
1:11.3 in beating Jimmy Evans of Villanova by 12 yards.

The next three-cornered duel
among Cunningham, Bonithon and Venzke will come in the Baxter
mile of the New York A. C. games
Feb. 16, and they will meet again a week later in the 5000 meter run
of the National A. A. U. championships.

FRIEND'S TRIBUTE
An Iowa paper printed the following notice on the passing of Winifred D. Shaw, beloved wife of Col. A. B. Shaw, of Pasadena, Cal.:

(By Frank P. Clarkson)
By the side of a perfect specimen pain tree on a greenward gently sloping toward the pool in Hollywood Cemetery, such a rarely beautiful spot as few but California can produce, we Wednesday afternoon, January 23rd, laid to rest the mortal remains of Winifred

D. Shaw, beloved wife of Col.
A. B. Shaw of Pasadena.

It was a warm, sunny afternoon just as Iowa, her best might possibly produce late in May, and gathered there to pay her reverence were the representatives of many old Iowa families who had no little to do with writing the history of that state which she loved only second to her adopted home in California.

Mrs. Shaw was one of the most loving and lovable women it has ever been our privilege to know.
A wonderful wife, a perfect mother and a priceless friend. Hers was a keen and brilliant mind and it was fairly packed with logic, philosophy, and beautiful thoughts.

There is so much we would like to do to assuage the grief of loved ones, but there seems nought that one can do or say, and in the presence of death we stand as helpless as little children.

Citizens of other lands tell us
there are no words in the English language to express the finest and deepest emotions, and at a time like this we appreciate just what they mean. "Good bye" are not the words we would use, but rather au revoir or auf wiedersehen. For everything in existence there must be some logical excuse, and the one excuse for this thing we call life is that it is in preparation for something higher and better. Until then, old friend, not good bye but au revoir—until we meet again.

OHIO STATE IS SURPRISE TEAM OF CONFERENCE

Buckeyes To Tackle First Position Purdue
Team

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Ohio State, a surprise contender for the Big Ten basketball title, will try to do something about bringing Purdue back to the rest of the field
tonight at LaFayette, Ind.

The Buckeyes were not expected to cut much of a figure in the title battle, and may not be anywhere at the finish. However, they were tied with Iowa and Wisconsin for third place today, at four victories and two defeats.

The Bollenmakers, strong favorites to win the title for the second consecutive year, finally got back into the lead Saturday night by defeating Chicago 48 to 35 while Iowa, pace-setter since the start of the season, fell before a rousing Minnesota first-half attack, 36 to 35. Purdue held the top position
with four victories in five games,
with Indiana, idle last week, second
with three victories and one defeat.

Race to Speed Up
With semester exams out of the way, the race picks up momentum
this week. In addition to the Buckeyes' invasion of Purdue tonight,
Chicago plays its return match
with Minnesota at Minneapolis.
Indiana will sharpen its game
against Vanderbilt at Nashville,
Tenn., before resuming its conference schedule Saturday against Minnesota at Bloomington.

Iowa goes to Ohio State Saturday
and Illinois tackles Chicago the same night. The bill also offers five
other big non-conference battles
Illinois entertains Notre Dame on Tuesday night, and on Saturday
Purdue plays Fordham at New York, Notre Dame meets Northwestern at Evanston, Michigan goes
to Michigan State and Wisconsin
entertains De Pauw.

Iowa's Offense Best
Although Iowa tumbled out of the lead by losing to Minnesota, it has
the best offensive average. In six games the Hawkeyes have averaged 36.3 points per game. Wisconsin has held six opponents to 23
points a game for the leading defensive mark.

Bonithon Lacked Kick
It was Bonithon, national collegiate mile champion and world's record holder at 1500 meters, who had been expected to furnish all
the competition for Cunningham.
He entered the race with three victories over his Kansas rival in five
meetings and many experts forecast another victory for him, despite the fact he was making his first start of the campaign. But Princeton Bill laid his usual finishing
"kick" and wound up in third place
25 yards behind Venzke.

Hornbostel won the 1,000 yard
special with a fast finish in 2:13,
a second back of the indoor record,
and then shattered Alan Helfrich's
world record of 1:11.6, set in 1925,
in winning the Millrose 600 with an
electrifying sprint at the finish.
The Hoosier ace was caught in
1:11.3 in beating Jimmy Evans of
Villanova by 12 yards.

The next three-cornered duel
among Cunningham, Bonithon and Venzke will come in the Baxter
mile of the New York A. C. games
Feb. 16, and they will meet again a
week later in the 5000 meter run
of the National A. A. U. championships.

OPERETTA AND MINSTRELS ARE IN REHEARSALS

Two Entertainments to be Given at State Hospital Soon

Cast for the minstrel show
"Convention Hall" and the operetta "Sonny of Sunny Side Up" are rehearsing daily for the productions which will be given at the Dixon State Hospital soon under the auspices of the recreational department.

A chorus of thirty is practicing tap dance numbers for the minstrel show, the cast being entirely of patients except for one employee who is acting as interlocutor. The operetta work is proceeding, the first rehearsal having been held Friday.

A cast of about forty characters will take part in the operetta. Practice is held each day in the amusement hall for both the minstrel and operetta productions.

The operetta follows closely upon the Christmas production of "At Home With Santa Claus," a similar musical drama that proved a huge success. The date for the giving of both the minstrel show and the new musical comedy will be determined by the progress of the cast in learning their dances.
More definite information will be available in about two weeks.

Little Movies Shown
In connection with the recreational department of the Dixon
State Hospital, particularly the Boy Scout division, "little movies" are being given every Saturday for the younger patients. The movies consist of two reel comedies largely,
and are given in the rooms of Troop 59, Hospital Scout organization. The films last about one half hour each. During the day the film machine is moved around the grounds to the various cottages where patients are unable to attend the show in the scout rooms.
Approximately nine shows are given in this manner every Saturday.
Saturday's production was entitled
"Match Making, Mama," featuring Carol Lombard.

DIZZY ANGLES FOR CARDINAL SALARY RAISE

Dean Advised By Will Rogers To Wait
Awhile Yet

New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Jerome
H. (Dizzy) Dean has all sorts of encouragements of the St. Louis Cardinals, but there was every indication today that not even the lanky, grinning pitching hero of the last world series takes the situation seriously.

Accepting the plaque given him
by the New York Baseball Writers Association at its annual banquet last night, Dizzy, a dazzling picture of the well dressed young man in his perfectly cut evening clothes didn't "didn't think Mr. Sam Breadon, Mr. Branch Rickey and myself will have any trouble at all this year."

This came after Will Rogers had encouraged Dizzy to hold out not only until he got at least $30,000 for his 1935 services, but until he found out what the Supreme Court was going to decide on the legality of reducing the gold content of the dollar.

"Wait until you know what those dollars are going to be worth before you even accept $25,000 or $30,000," Rogers said as Breadon and Rickey, only a few seats away in the crowd of 600 baseball magnates, writers and celebrities, blanched while the rest laughed.

Heywood Squeeches 'Em
Heywood Brown, columnist, also spoke in favor of the Dean financial cause. He said not only ball players but sports writers were poorly paid. Brown had the owners figiting when he accused them of being none too bright in squelching
the theatrical angles of baseball.

Postmaster James A. Farley,
Mayor Fiorella La Guardia, Ford
Prick and William Harridge, president of the National and American Leagues, respectively, also spoke as Dean received the award of the writers as the "outstanding player of the year."

Prick received a watch from his former co-workers, the baseball writers.

Connie Mack was presented with a second plaque for contributing the most to the game during the year, and Walter (Rabbit) Maranville of the Boston Braves received a watch from his former co-workers, the team and celebrities in a three-hour show. Connie Mack told

SILKEN SPINDLES

by Laura Lee Brookman © 1935 NEA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

GALE HENDERSON, pretty and 23, works in a silk mill. She and her 19-year-old brother, Phil, support their invalid father.

STEVE MEYERS, who also works in the mill asks Gale to marry him. He promises to give him an answer in a few days.

Later that evening Gale goes skating on the river, goes through the ice which is rescued by BRIAN WESTMORE, whose father, now dead, built the mill. Brian asks Gale to wait while he gets his car but when he returns she is gone.

Brian has come home after two years in Paris, convinced he can never be an artist and eager to go to work in the mill. VICKY THATCHER, daughter of ROBERT THATCHER, general manager of the mill, schemes to convictive Brian.

Brian sees Gale in the mill and recognizes her. He realizes he asks if he can walk home with her. Gale refuses, but Steve sees them together and later she and Steve quarrel.

Lonely, Gale goes skating again, singing "Hush" and meets together. He asks her to meet him again next evening.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVI

BRIAN went on, not waiting for an answer. "We'll skate up the river," he said, "Maybe as far as the Fulton bridge. It's smooth all the way, they say." And he said—
When there was no answer he turned. "See here," he said,
"you're not going to say you won't come? Not doing the disappearing act again when we're just getting acquainted?"

Gale said, "No—"

"You'd better not," Brian said heartily. "What time shall we make it?"

The campfire was only a bed of smoking embers now. Brian turned his heel on a half-burned bit of drift wood and looked up. Gale had moved farther into the shadows.

She said, "I shouldn't come—"
"Why not?"

"Because I shouldn't," she told him.

"Doesn't sound like a good reason to me. Do you mean you don't want to?"

"I didn't say that."

"Well, look here, and I want to school together, didn't we?
We're practically old friends. I'll bet we know a lot of the same people."

"Yes," she agreed, "I suppose we do. But we're not in school now.
I—I can't stay and talk about it any longer. I've got to go—"

"Not until you tell me when I'm going to see you again. What am I to do? You won't talk to me at the mill. You won't let me walk home with you. Can I come to your house?"

"No," she said quickly. "Oh, no, you mustn't do that!"

"But I want to see you!" He was near enough to touch her,
though he did not. "I like you, Gale Henderson. I like you a lot—"

LEGISLATURES RUSH AID TO UNEMPLOYED

Complete Extent of Need Clouded By Rumors

By the Associated Press.
State legislatures like ships of mercy in a stubborn storm, are pushing under forced draft to the rescue of the nation's unemployed.

The federal tug, stoked by billions, has signalled her cannot hope by herself to outdrive the gale with her tow of jobless poor.

Some states already have lowered most of their lifeboats and are casting about for new ones—sales taxes, income taxes, bond issues, liquor revenues.

State governors have sent appeals urging the federal government to continue to direct the rescue. They will do all they can, they say, but their own supplies are low.

Situation extremely serious," says Pennsylvania. That state needs $20,902,750 for February.

Extent of Need Clouded.
The full extent of the need is clouded by widely conflicting accounts. The estimates of the number of persons needing relief range from ten to twenty million.

Delaware's relief commission is without funds, operating on credit. With $8,697 persons in Nebraska receiving federal relief, most counties have no relief funds and the legislature has appropriated none.

Arizona's allotment for the first two weeks of this month will exhaust all FERA funds in that state. Each relief case has been cut $1 in an effort to spread success.

Connecticut's relief director says the need is increasing. Continued cold weather has augmented demands on Vermont's relief agencies, mostly local.

Maine's relief organization is spending $750,000 a month. New York state has $40,000,000 for the year and needs another $10,000,000, in addition to a sum nearly as large which New York City alone is trying to raise by means of a two per cent sales tax.

Millions Needed.
One more week will exhaust the FERA funds which have been keeping 50,000 Massachusetts persons on work relief. Millions of dollars are needed.

North Carolina has 70,000 persons on work relief rolls, federally financed. No state relief legislation is pending.

Indiana's relief toll of 127,316 persons was a 6.1 per cent climb from November; and the cost of Indiana relief in December—$4,370,049—was 7.2 per cent above November.

One out of every six Kentucky families is on relief.

Approximately 195,000 Floridians were in the same situation in January, but this represents a decline of about 45,000 from December figures.

South Carolina is considering various relief measures, including old age pensions, mothers' aid and workmen's compensation bills.

Idaho, responding to charges that politics had figured in relief allotments, reclassified her 27,000 relief case and reduced the number about 25 per cent.

Virginia Does Little.
Virginia's various counties have been informed they must prepare to resume direct relief. The only state help there is a "stagger system" used to rotate jobs on highway construction programs.

Missouri legislators are considering raising a needed additional $6,000,000 by increasing the sales tax.

Oregon found $250,000 of state liquor profits a lifesaver in its February relief program.

New Hampshire, shorn of federal help, has put the relief problem squarely on the shoulders of communities and counties. Federal relief is expected to be resumed soon.

Nevada's only relief is from the federal government.

New Jersey, with $7,000,000 of federal funds to see her through February, is considering a two per cent sales tax and a state income tax to meet future relief needs.

The word from West Virginia today is: "The relief administration is in a much better position than at any time since the beginning of the relief program. One out of every four West Virginia families is on relief. Demands for relief have increased slightly under seasonal needs."

SALES TAX NETS THREE MILLIONS FOR DECEMBER

Collections Are Larger For January

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 4.—(AP).—The state collected $3,945,378.04 in sales tax in January on December retail business, K. L. Ames, Jr., director of finance, has announced.

More returns were filed in January and collections were larger than in any month during the year. The impost has been collected.

In expressing gratification over the sales tax returns, Gov. Horner said: "Under this tax the state has steady revenue while the difficulty of collecting the old property tax was always a problem. The property tax was paid annually with little certainty of collection."

Meanwhile, Director Ames revealed the department was considering a coupon system which would enable retailers to give customers correct change. The coupons, if adopted, would be based on mills so that a customer would not overpay in the collection of the tax.

Ames also said the department was studying the possibilities of licensing retailers as an aid to better enforcement of the act. Those selling gasoline, on which the three cent tax is now collected, are licensed and Ames believes a similar system for all who come under the sales tax would increase the number of returns.

The monthly average in sales tax collections since enactment was said by Ames to be $3,112,937.65.

Supreme and Majestic Mountains Greet Pathfinder on the Road to Mexico City

Verdure clad hills of wondrous beauty greeted the Studebaker Pathfinder as it arrived at San Vicente, 625 miles south of Laredo, Texas, on the Pan American highway and about 139 miles north of Mexico City. San Vicente is the highest point on the road and about 8,400 feet in elevation. The topmost point is at the tree at the left. The rear-most range of visible mountains in the picture is more than seventy miles distant. A little further toward the south the hills change to semi arid rock formation.

By WILLIAM C. GARNER

Driving the Studebaker Pathfinder to Mexico City

Mexico City, Mexico.—(by mail).—

The journey is over. It has been great in thrills and awe inspiring in the potential the future holds for a new and more pleasing relationship between the two distinctive cultures of the Western Hemisphere—the American and Canadian, which is almost American, and the Spanish.

Leaving my road camp, Culvera, about 600 miles south of Laredo, Texas, on the Pan American highway I was at Jacala, twenty miles farther south in an hour. Jacala is the beginning of the revelation of a civilization as old as that of Pompeii, Italy, which it is somewhat like. Jacala is a town of river rock, the round kind rather than the hewn rock of settlements far from the rivers. Many of its older streets, paved with round rock, are just wide enough for a single car. Others, in the newer section, but all centuries old, are wider. Jacala marks the beginning of the improved road into Mexico City. The eighty miles from Jacala to Ismiqulpan is the new widened Pan American highway and the concluding section of the mountain road. It has received its first coat of rock ballast and the steam rollers. It is wide enough for three cars side by side. On the straightaways a speed of fifty miles per hour is comfortable. On the turns, and it is almost all turns, better slow down to twenty. The Mexican engineers, and they are first rate with even the entire world in competition, have developed a perfected style of banking the road. It is so well banked that the Studebaker Pathfinder followed around the turns with a mere suggestion of pressure on the steering wheel.

Enroute to Ismiqulpan from Jacala we passed the highest point on the road, San Vicente, 800 feet above the level of the sea. The view from it is majestic. It is a wild heaving of mountains, different from the Rockies in the fact that the torrid zone climate and rains make a verdure that maintains a thick green growth on the mountainsides. There is everything from grass to pine trees—not the majestic pine of mountains in the United States, but a long needle medium growth pine.

At Ismiqulpan we hit the paved road and a new type of country. It is flat and semi-arid with mountains in the distance on each side. The mountains are of the rich, red purple sands and rock of our Arizona country. On each side of the road, stretching back for miles, the maguay castus is cultivated. The maguay castus is the plant from which tequila, the national Mexican hard drink is distilled. A little about the cactus and the drink.

The maguay is quite like the top of a pineapple. Its leaves are long and spiked at the end. They are like the pineapple in character only. In size they are ten times as big, reaching a normal length of five feet and an extraordinary length of eight feet. The leaves or arms are a dull hunter green and seem to thrive on bare sand.

Tequila, as a finished product runs from clear to a light brown. It is a liquor that ranges from forty to seventy per cent in alcoholic strength. It is probably more nearly like gin than any other American drink but is slightly more sticky than gin and smoother.

On from Ismiqulpan and even dwellings that might well be in the heart of Africa. All kinds of wild game, large and small, and an open season all the year around—a pleasant, kindly fine people. But you will have difficulties with the language. Very few speak the American lingo.

The road is barred to tourists south of Tamazunchale so don't try to get through. Even if they let you, you would only come to grief. From Monterey, 150 miles south of the border I have been in light clothing and shirt-sleeves continuously and have never been too cool, and only on a couple of middays in the direct sun uncomfortably hot.

Let me close with a salute to the National Highways Commission of Mexico. It is doing a magnificent job that will be complete in about a year and sufficiently complete for tourist travel this summer.

Riddle Me This

Paul Miller is foreman of the Bell Printing Company, Middleboro, Kentucky. Paul is an ardent intertype enthusiast. He sends us the following item:

Last year I asked her to be my wife and she gave me a decidedly negative reply, so to get even I married her mother. Then my father married the girl.

When I married the girl's mother the girl became my daughter, and my father married my daughter, so he became my son. When my father married my daughter, she became my mother. If my father is my son and my daughter is my mother, who am I?

My mother's mother is my wife and must be my grandmother. So being my grandmother's husband, I must be my own grandfather. And there you are.

"And where were you the night of December thirty-fifth," cried the sophisticated debutante, dressed superbly in a dazzling gown of gingham blue, with clam shell eye-lashes. The dapper young man of 84 sitting tensely upon the end of his chair, quickly composed himself, deftly drew his artlessly knarled hand across his cleanly-shaven face and put a devilishly innocent twirl to his handle-bar moustache. "You insulting hussy," he whispered, with a blast heard outside the court room, "you know I never touch the stuff!"

The debutante retorted: "Don't lie to me, you whippersnapper, I saw you light one at eight o'clock, January 10, 1885."

EARLY DIXONITIES

Dan McKenney, proprietor of a livery stable here in 1878, holds the distinction of being generally known better by every one in Dixon than any other character of that era. The livery stable occupied the place in every community that gasoline stations hold today. Mr. McKenney's livery stable was no exception. It ranked the first and foremost in Lee county. He made it his hobby to have only the best stock and superior vehicles. He turned out elegant and reliable teams, building for himself a wide reputation.

Mr. McKenney was a man of courteous and congenial habits, and his strict, fair manner of doing business won him his great popularity in this city. He was one of Dixon's oldest residents and ranked among her prominent and enterprising citizenry. His wife is still a resident of our city and his son Dan is spending the winter here.

Cecelia Amaranth Lipe was born August 23, 1850 in Montgomery county, Illinois, daughter of Daniel and Matilda Walter Lipe. She was one of a family of ten children. All of the brothers and two sisters preceded her in death in comparatively recent years.

She was united in marriage to Henry Raffenberg at St. John's Lutheran church in Sterling, Ill., Christmas day, 1870.

With her husband she united with St. Paul's Lutheran church at Dixon, Easter Sunday, 1871, where she had been a regular attendant, also being one of the charter members of the Ladies Aid Society.

She leaves to mourn her passing, four sons, Walter, Lee, Roy and Harry, and a daughter, Miss Olive, all of this city, two sisters, Mrs. T. W. Henry and Mrs. Leora Schriver both of Des Moines, Iowa; nine grandchildren, five great-grandchildren, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, Jan. 30, 1935, at St. Paul's Lutheran church with burial in Oakwood cemetery. Mrs. G. A. Phelps of Sterling, a niece of the deceased, sang two songs, "Face to Face" and "One Sweetly Solemn Thought."

"They say that life is a highway and its milestones are the years. And now and then there's a telephone where you buy your way with tears.

It's a rough road, and a steep road, and it stretches broad and far. But at last it comes to a Golden Town where Golden Houses are."
